

THINGS YOU NEED TO DO TO PREPARE FOR THE 2004 FIELD SEASON:

 This is not a complete list, you should make your own checklist to reflect your own needs.

- ☐ Arrange your housing as soon as possible.
- ☐ Make your travel plans to get to Hungry Horse, Montana.
- ☐ You should have already read our Project Webpage but read it over a few times so that you know the information.
- ☐ More information will be posted on the job webpage as we know it, so check back every so often.
- ☐ Read over the Preparation for 2004 Webpage.
- ☐ Start an exercise regiment or augment an existing one so that you will be ready for the field season.
- ☐ Read over the gear lists we have made and make a list of your own of what you need for the field season.
- ☐ Those that are in the wilderness need to have extra backup items since they will not be able to get to stores on their days off.
- ☐ Plan out what you will pack on a day hike, overnight, and extended backpack trip.
- ☐ Read up on the area you will be working in and the work you will be doing (we have created a large resource list for you)
- ☐ Read up on some of the hazards of working in the area (a short list is included at the bottom of the training webpage)
- ☐ Break in your boots!!
- ☐ Write down who your emergency contact is with all the information we would need to get in touch with them.
- ☐ Leave instructions with your family and friends of how they can contact you.
